

COOKIE POLICY

A cookie is a small file which asks permission to be placed on your computer's hard drive. Once you agree, the file is added and the cookie helps analyse web traffic or lets you know when you visit a particular site. Cookies allow web applications to respond to you as an individual. Cookies help us provide you with a better website by enabling us to monitor the pages that you find useful and tailor our website to your needs, likes and dislikes by gathering and remembering information about your preferences. We use traffic log cookies to identify which pages are being used. This helps us analyse data about web page traffic and improve our website in order to tailor it to your needs. We only use this information for statistical analysis purposes and then the data is removed from the system. We may collect information about your computer, including where available your IP address, operating system and browser type, for system administration. This is statistical data about your browsing actions and patterns, and does not identify you or anyone else as an individual. A cookie in no way gives us access to your computer or any information about you, other than the data you choose to share with us. We may disclose the data we collect through cookies to any member of our group, which means our ultimate holding company and its subsidiaries. We comply with the recent UK and EU law on handling cookies. You can choose to accept or decline cookies when you use our website. Most web browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can usually modify your browser settings to decline cookies if you prefer. To find out more about how you can block, delete or manage cookies, please visit aboutcookies.org. Please be aware that if you choose not to accept cookies, you may not be able to take full advantage of the website.
